

Former Millionaire Forced to Beg CAMPAIN AFTER HEADLIGHT LAWBREAKERS May Have Double Election Oct. 18

City May Save Money By Voting On Gas Plant and Charter at the Same Time

There is no reason why the special election on the initiative petition calling upon the municipal council to vote to take over the plant of the Lowell Gas Light Co. or to establish a gas plant of its own, cannot be held on Tuesday, Oct. 18, the date of the special election on the proposed new city charter, according to City Solicitor William D. Regan.

By holding both elections on the same date the election department will save in the neighborhood of $5000 or $6000. Since the day the petition was presented to City Clerk Stephen Flynn there has been more or less speculation as to when the matter would come before the people as it was almost a foregone conclusion that the members of the municipal council would not care to vote on the matter without referring it to the electorate.

Not Delved Deeply

The solicitor has not delved into the election laws deeply on the matter but has taken up all local legislation on the question is concerned, he sees no reason why the two elections cannot be combined and both questions presented to the voters on the same ballot.

If the municipal council holds no more meetings until Sept. 1, a week from Thursday, or Sept. 6, two weeks from today, it will mean that City Clerk Flynn will not have an opportunity to present the petition to the council until one of those dates. The charter provides that the special election, if one is to be held, shall be held not less than 40 nor more than 50 days after the date that the petition was presented to the council. A state law says that all elections must be held on Tuesdays. Accordingly, if the petition is presented to the council either Sept. 1 or 6, the 40-day period will enable the city legally to hold the election on Oct. 18, the date of the charter election.

Special Enactment

The question has been raised as to whether there is anything in the special legislative enactment which refers the charter question to the people to prevent such procedure. City Solicitor Regan looked the matter up today and found nothing to prevent now than one question going on the ballot on that date. The legislative resolve simply provides that the charter question

ARRIVES WITH 3 MEN IN IRONS

Steamship Alliance Docks—Had Summoned Marines From Battleship at Sea

Action Followed Outbreak—Engineers Afraid to Sleep, Went Armed

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The Steamship Alliance arrived today from Cristobal with three mutinous firemen in irons and 22 marines, transferred to the steamship at sea from the battleship Connecticut, on guard because of a rebellious spirit exhibited by other firemen.

Fearing for the safety of 124 passengers, many of whom were women and children, Captain James Stone got in touch with the battleship by wireless last Friday and summoned aid. The Alliance left Cristobal on August 12. Captain Stone said that as a result of continual quarrels he summoned three firemen before him and ordered them put in irons on charge of mutiny. As they were being taken to confinement they yelled: "All hands quit work." There was no actual response to their suggestion, but the rest of the firemen muttered constantly and made such threats that the engineers went armed and were afraid to sleep. The cook could not rest in his quarters because of the noise made by the unruly firemen and had to sleep on deck. When the marines arrived on board the trouble subsided.

SHOTS FIRED IN BELFAST

Sunday Night's Bomb Throwing Followed by Rifle and Revolver Firing Last Night

BELFAST, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press).—Sunday night's bomb-throwing on Tyrone street was followed up in the same area by sharp rifle and revolver firing last night. A hand grenade was also used but failed to explode. The street lamps had been extinguished to prevent detection of the participants in the firing.

The disturbances continued during the curfew time. Belfast is the only part of Ireland where the curfew is now in operation.

POLICE CHIEF TO START WARFARE

Short Shrift to be Given After Sunday to Violators of New Statute

Enforcement Part of State-wide Crusade for Proper Auto Lighting

Dealers Say There is Abundant Supply of Legal Lenses and Bulbs

Starting next Monday Superintendent Desmond Welch of the local police department will initiate a campaign against violators of the new automobile headlight law which went into effect Aug. 15. This law specifies the legal and illegal types of lenses and bulbs which shall be employed on automobile headlights. One of the most important specifications of the law states that each headlight bulb shall be of the strength of 21 candlepower, no more and no less. This is the section in the law which the local superintendent proposes to look after with special care and it is the part of the statute which will cause most anxiety to local motorists, since many of them are now operating with bulbs which do not come anywhere near meeting the requirements. It is claimed.

Local dealers in automobile accessories stated this morning that they have on hand a plentiful supply of the legal types of lenses and bulbs and that no one will be able to claim immunity from the law on the score that they have been unable to purchase the new fixtures here.

The local campaign against violators of the law will be a part of a state-wide crusade conducted under the direction of Registrar of Motor Vehicles Frank A. Goodwin of the motor vehicle division of the department of public works. Thus far Mr. Goodwin has been content with sending written warnings to those who were reported as violating the new law. He wished now to give the statute the state plenty of time to install the new fixtures and with this object in view he recently wrote to Superintendent Welch asking him to go slowly in arresting offenders until a reasonable period of time had elapsed. Now, however, it is felt that sufficient leeway has been given and starting next week the law is to be rigidly enforced.

ONE DOLLAR REWARD FOR FINDING $11,000

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—One dollar reward for finding $11,000 erroneously sent a charitable organization was acknowledged by Roger Mitchell, manager of the book department of the Morgan Memorial, who promptly donated the gratuity to the institute.

Mitchell discovered a bundle of securities and money in a shipment of books and other goods received from a Medford notary, an occasional donor to the Memorial.

The Medford man is said to have asked that the institution be kept open an extra half hour as he "couldn't call for the stuff right now."

Then the donor's wife called with a complaint that some jewelry had been missed from the bundle, but she left Mitchell a brand new dollar bill.

"Prohibition Booze" Continues to Leave Senseless Men Scattered in Its Wake in Lowell

Sensational testimony by persons charged with drunkenness in the district court this morning, relative to Lowell moonshine which is doing almost the potency of knockout drops after a couple of drinks, was heard by Judge Thomas J. SYRIAN ARCHBISHOP TO VISIT LOWELL

The Syrian Archbishop of Tyro, Rt. Rev. Nektarios Vaghi comes from Lawrence, Mexico to visit Peter Coury, 2 Cowell ave. of this city. The archbishop has been in the United States about three months, also is devoting part of his time to general supervision of church activities and is also paying money to care for orphans of Syrian soldiers who perished in the world war. He has visited in New York, Boston and other cities. August 14 he celebrated mass in Lawrence. Last Sunday he celebrated mass in Manchester, N. H.

The archbishop will after a brief stay in this city will probably return to Lawrence where he is making a special effort to secure funds for the erection of a new church.

A dinner and reception will be tendered the archbishop tonight at the home of Peter Coury. It is expected that some of the Catholic clergymen of the city will call upon the visitor during the evening. An auto ride around the city will also probably be given the visitor and it is expected that he will make calls upon prominent Syrians.

He will be accompanied from Lawrence by Father Peter Ebozold of St. Joseph's church, and Joseph Betal and his two sons.

RETURNS HOME; PROMISES TO SEND FINE

Costless and hatters, Samuel Welner again appeared before the district court this morning charged with larceny of a shaving set and a revolver, of a total value of $25, from Frederick Madigan. Welner was arrested some two weeks ago. He told of coming here from his home in Springfield to visit friends, and of losing his money. "I sold my coat and hat to get food," he declared, and added that he stole Madigan's property also because of dire necessity. Welner occupied an adjoining room to Madigan's at a local hostelry.

Welner's unusual eagerness to be freed led to suspicion on the part of the court which he was anxious to have remain unknown. He was consequently detained at the house of correction for a week while an investigation was made. Coming into court again, he besought with tears that he be freed, but the investigation had not proceeded far enough and he went to Cambridge again.

Today he told the court that his parents sent him money, and that he could get back to Springfield if released. He was allowed to go, on agreeing to remit the amount of his fine within six weeks. The stolen property was recovered through the efforts of Captain David E. Petrie, who investigated the case.

Raid by Federal Officers Results in Recovery of Securities Valued at Million

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Diggings the return of "at least a little of the millions—to be exact, $2,500,000," alleged to have been obtained from him by John W. Worthington, Charles W. French and their associates, a letter from Z. W. Davis, a director of the Winton Automobile company of Cleveland, forms the latest link in the evidence against a band of alleged swindlers now under federal indictment, federal agents said today.

The letter was interrupted by government officials. It was addressed to French at a Chicago loop hotel, where a suite maintained by him was raided yesterday. Federal officers said they recovered securities valued at a million dollars in the raid.

Davis' letter of six pages, dated Aug. 3, was a plea for his wife and children. Left without aid from those who obtained his fortune, the Cleveland former millionaire declared he would be "forced to the only alternative—suicide." Davis also was a former president of the Diamond Portland Cement company and the Globe Stove company.

The letter addressed to French read: "Please do not take what I am writing to you as a whine. I am not in the habit of crying. I have lost, I would not care.

"But there are others who are entirely dependent on me for a livelihood. It is for that reason that I am now forced to beg you to return at least a little of the millions—to be exact, $2,500,000—which you and your associates have taken away from me in the last two years."

Worthington, French, Owen T. Evans and Albert Harshman are under indictment. Davis also is under indictment, but has protested that he was made a dupe by the leaders of the ring.

American Officers Take Charge of the Dirigible ZR-2 for Trial Trip at Howden, England, Today

"DOCKED" AT THE MOORING MAST

This picture shows a dirigible "docked" at a mooring mast in England. The mast is 100 feet high. The dirigible, ZR-2, is the new "crown" of the air at the top of the mast. The dirigible is always pointing at the mast, entering the boat pipe lines. Dirigibles have been used for months at a time.

HOWDEN, England, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The dirigible ZR-2, purchased from Great Britain by the United States, commenced a trial trip this morning. The American officers were in charge of the dirigible, which will start on its flight across the Atlantic to America as soon as practicable.

It was intended that today's flight would be the final test of the dirigible before Commander Louis H. Maxfield of the United States navy and his crew formally took charge of the craft. The ship's control car contained Commander Maxfield, Brigadier-General S. M. Maitland, the British air marshal, and Colonel Campbell, who supervised the work of designing the dirigible. Distributed through the vast interior of the balloon were five other American officers, seven engineers and four riggers, in addition to the regular British crew.

Immediately upon taking the air the dirigible made two circuits of the camp, and then, with an American blue jacket perched in the machine gunner's nest at the very tip of the ship's stern waving good-bye, the craft headed due west and at quickly gathering speed was soon lost to view.

Before the start General Maitland said he intended maneuvering the ship over the North sea where he could show what ability she possessed in combating the wind and then to make a speedy swing to Pulham, where he expects to tie the ZR-2 to her mooring mast at ten o'clock tonight.

Power Plant and Leather Board Mill at Damariscotta Mills, Maine, Burned

DAMARISCOTTA MILLS, Me., Aug. 23.—The power plant of the Lincoln County Power company, and the leather board mill of the Damariscotta leather company were burned early today with a loss estimated at $100,000.

The fire started in the power plant from an overheated bearing and spread rapidly through the leather board mill, operated by H. M. Casner. His loss of approximately $100,000 on manufactured stock and machinery is believed to be covered by insurance.

The power plant and mill, a three-story frame structure, were owned by Burgess and Lang of Boston. The mill was the only industry of that section, and employed 35.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Operation of the motion picture censorship law passed by the last legislature was automatically suspended today when a petition for a referendum on the act was filed by Joseph J. Through this action the law becomes inoperative until after the state election in 1922. Only 15,000 signatures are required to effect suspension of the law pending a referendum upon it.

PANAMA TO REPLY AUG. 24

Cabinet Considers Answer to Latest Note From Sec. of State Hughes

Armed Forces Already Ordered to Coto, with View of Opposing Costa Ricans

PANAMA, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Panama's reply to the latest note from Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes, in which Panama was told that disputed territory along the Costa Rican frontier of this country would be placed under the jurisdiction of Costa Rica, has been considered by the cabinet and possibly will be delivered on Wednesday. American diplomatic officials here are reluctant regarding the situation, but it is known that the Panamanian reply has not as yet gone forward to Washington.

Although it is generally reported that armed forces have already been ordered to advance to Coto, in the disputed area, with a view to opposing possible Costa Rican occupation of that district, the most recent official declarations here indicate that troops have been dispatched only to David, a town some distance from the boundary. It is said they have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness there to march toward Coto whenever orders are received. The Panamanian government, it is understood, will await further advice from Washington before taking any decided steps.

General preparations to meet emergency calls for men have been made. The chief of the fire department has been instructed to be ready to remove to the frontier became necessary.

Commenting upon the situation which has developed as a result of the American note, the Star and Herald, the leading newspaper of the republic says:

"In our opinion, the United States has proceeded in this case with a point of view which is believed to be just. We have reached a critical moment. The last word has been spoken, but we should not permit ourselves to proceed passively. Let us think of the future of the country before everything. Above all, let us not compromise that future by an act of madness."

EX-HUNGARIAN PREMIER SPEAKS AT WILLIAMS

WILLIAMSTOWN, Aug. 23.—The attempt to Magyarize non-Magyar races in Hungary is no more an act of oppression than the Magyarization of American foreign races in this country, declared Count Paul Teleki, former Hungarian premier, in a lecture before the Institute of Politics at Williams college today.

"Had the non-Magyar races been able to communicate with one another in Hungary," he said, "there would hardly have been an excuse for substituting Hungarian for the language spoken by the majority of the population. But no one of these principal Magyar races could communicate with another without the intermediary of another language known to all. The transplantation of English, French or Italian, completely strange to all, would have been as absurd as the introduction of Esperanto in the United States."

"Thus," the speaker continued, "the choice lay between German and Hungarian, the Austrian government had done its utmost for establishing German for centuries. It had failed not only because the German element was but a small element in Hungary, but also because the individual culture of the country was Hungarian and not German. The development and spread of Hungarian was life and death struggle not merely cultural but also political in a country lying on the path of Germany's expansion towards the east. Thus it is safe to say that, in the successful struggle to spread the Hungarian language in order to supplant the German of the absolute ruler in Hungary, the chief loser was Germany and not the language of any other of the larger groups of non-Magyars in the realm."

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The advance sale of tickets for the opening week of high class vaudeville at the B. F. Keith theatre begins tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Everything is in readiness for the start of this, the eleventh season, at this popular house. As usual, there has been much touching up in the theatre, and quite a number of changes for the better have been made in stage facilities.

Manager Pickett has secured many of his bookings for the early part of the season, and these include many acts which have never been here in the past. A goodly smattering of foreign acts, which have been favorites in European capitals, will be seen and heard from time to time.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

What constitutes true happiness? The age-old question is forcefully and convincingly answered in the feature play at the Merrimack Square theatre during the first half of the week, "The Foolish Matrons."

The best thing Maurice Tourneur has ever done. True, it depicts much of the sordid life but it does so with a touch of realism that rings true.

We have all seen and know the three matrons who are the subject of the play. We have seen the young country girl who is a bit envious and jealous of her sisters in New York because they are able to wear fine clothes and jewelry and live in a big house. First, we have seen her neglect her husband and pickpocket him because he is not able to provide her the excessive luxuries which she craves. And finally we have seen her sadly awaken to the fact that those who will provide her with such luxuries and pleasures will finally want to collect payment. Then her castle falls with a dull thud, she loses her husband and she becomes one of the "foolish matrons."

Such a girl was Georgia Knapp, an ambitious southern small town girl, and when her husband got a chance to enter a New York law office she saw the realization of her desire to get to the glittering metropolis. She met new friends—one in particular—and then her period of unhappiness and disillusionment had its inception.

Eventually, the right man in her newspaper work was everything to her and instead of devoting herself exclusively to her profession until she had reached the heights in which she aspired, she endeavored to play the double role of newspaper worker and wife. Her husband, a poet from a Connecticut country town, accepted her desire to live in the city, but his genius found no nourishment from dry walls and skyscrapers. Gradually he sank to the drugs until death overtook him. Meanwhile, his neglected wife's "career" went on. She was the second foolish matron.

The third matron was Annis Grand, an actress, a bit older than the other matrons and with very sensible ideas on love and marriage. The world wondered why she with all her opportunities had never married and one day she disclosed her great secret in a newspaper interview. Marriage, she said, would not be her lot until she found the right man and then her career would be in care for him.

Eventually, the right man in her person of a noted surgeon, came along and won her. At first they continued to live in New York, but the continual drain which the hospitals made on the surgeon's time and nerve was fast driving him to drugs. However, his wife was the wife matron who married for love and, although continued success in her profession awaited her and unlimited riches from her husband's income if he remained in the city, she sacrificed it all to take up her abode in the country that her husband might find peace and relaxation.

She was not a foolish matron and her wisdom brought her and her family contentment and happiness.

Tourneur has assembled a capable cast for the interpretation of the various characters. Hobart Bosworth and Doris May play the leads.

The other big feature shown yesterday from the tension of the Tourneur production, "The Man Who," and does very well indeed in a half-amusing, half-pathetic role. He personates a war vet who has taken up the civilian struggle after the tumult and the shouting of war enthusiasm has died. He conceives a passion for a society girl, and for a time fails to understand that a bank clerk cannot marry a daughter of gold, at least after the armistice has been signed.

Stimulated by a desire to appear a winner in her eyes, he devises a novel manner of becoming famous. This expedient is none other than the practice of going barefooted as a protest against the high price of shoes. His glided goddess, however, frowns upon this method of winning recognition from fame, and, well as how he marries another young person who isn't as highfalutin' as she turns out to be a society queen also. Of course, it could all happen only in the movies, but it is very pleasant.

"Thunder Island" has for its star a young lady named Edith Roberts. She is a daughter of gold, at least after the armistice has been signed.

The scenery of the picture is excellent. There is a most picturesque schooner, and some beautiful coastline. The plot is simple, dealing with the conflict between good and evil in individuals, and the conquest by the former.

The children were especially delighted with the film, and frequently signalled their appreciation by applause, although they sometimes discovered their pleasure had been premature, for the villain frequently discomfited the efforts of the hero and his men to circumvent them.

Besides "Thunder Island" and "The Man Who" there was a very snappy comedy. The news reel was the best thing in the show. It showed Madame L'Englen in action and some pretty yacht racing, together with other diverting doings in various parts of the world.

announced that the committee would meet there, was some apprehension lest crown forces would interfere in the gathering, but no intimation had been given that the British authorities would frown on the proposed assembly.

Message For "Highest Authority"

Considerable speculation was caused here last night by the delivery of a message to Mr. De Valera by Monsignor Edward Mulhern, Bishop of Drogheda. It was asserted that the message had not come from Cardinal Logue, head of the cabinet session, but there was no further information relative to the origin of the message, except it came from the "highest authority."

It was the subject of protracted consultation by the Sinn Fein leaders. Shortly after the Dail Eireann convened it was declared in some quarters that the Irish clergy was urging action by the parliament that would preclude resumption of warfare between the republican forces and the British soldiery or constabulary.

Ulster Cabinet to Meet

To sessions of the parliament were held yesterday and, while details of them were withheld, it was understood that the deputies asked De Valera and his colleagues for explanations of various phases of the situation.

Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, planned to meet his cabinet at Belfast today, and it was believed probable that relations between Belfast and Dublin would be considered.

Interest in Irish Heroes

Public interest in the popular heroes of the Irish republican army is unabated. They are acclaimed wherever they go, and such men as Michael Collins, commander-in-chief of the I.R.A., John J. Walsh, popularly known as the "Jail breaker" Austin Stack, minister for home affairs in the Dail cabinet, and others of the leaders devote much of their time to escaping the hero worshipers.

Michael Collins, dining alone last night in a public restaurant, playfully showed the effects of his long hiding in the hills. He was discreet and nervous and seemed invariably to eye closely any strangers who approached. Walsh, however, is of an entirely different type—a big, burly youth who seems never to lose his nerve, always cool and contained. John J. McKewen, another of the Sinn Fein heroes, is similar to Walsh in physique and just about as self-possessed.

All-Day Discussion

DUBLIN, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The Dail Eireann held two secret sessions yesterday to consider the question of what shall be its reply to the British government's peace offer. It adjourned last evening without having reached any decision, but will meet again today in private, simultaneously with the gathering of the Sinn Fein executive committee, which is somewhat similar to the national political party committees in the United States.

Last evening the following official communication was issued:

"The Dail Eireann met this morning at 11 o'clock, adjourned at 2 o'clock, reassembled at 4 o'clock and rose at 5.30 o'clock. It was occupied all day with Mr. Lloyd George's proposals. It will meet again tomorrow."

There is little likelihood of there being any public session of the Dail Eireann until Friday, by which time its reply may have been sent to Mr. Lloyd George, Harry J. Boland, representative of Eamon de Valera in the United States, and Mary MacSwiney, sister of the late lord mayor of Cork who died on a hunger strike in Brixton prison, London, attended yesterday's session prepared to offer their opinions on the situation based on what was considered by the latest feeling in the United States. Mr. Boland said last evening that the situation was too delicate to talk about.

There were no long speeches delivered at yesterday's meeting of the Dail Eireann. "Any deputy speaking for more than five or 10 minutes would make himself unpopular, except, of course, Mr. de Valera or other members of the cabinet when making an explanatory statement," one of the members said last night. He added that thus far the deputies merely had shown considerable curiosity concerning the terms of the government's offer and that the members of the cabinet had been called upon for explanations from all parts of the round room of Mansion house, where the sessions of the parliament are being held.

France has eliminated speed limits in the country.

LIQUOR CASE DROPPED BUYS ANOTHER BANK

Court Refuses to Accept Plea From Hired Man When Principal Was Let Go

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Federal Judge Morton refused today to accept a plea of guilty from John Borges of New Bedford who is under indictment charged with illegal possession of a gun.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Joseph Keith recommended that the man be fined $50, explaining that he was not the principal in the case and that the man by whom he was supposed to have been employed had been discharged by a United States commissioner at New Bedford.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—A British airplane which was making a practice flight on Saturday last was brought down within the Turkish lines at Gieveh, 35 miles southeast of Istanbul. Its pilot and observer were made prisoners by the Turks, who affirmed they were making a reconnaissance in it for the Greeks. The Turks also declared the flight was proof that the British were assisting the Greeks.

NOT GUILTY VERDICT IN MANSLAUGHTER CASE

Weston Blake, of Weston, was found not guilty of manslaughter in the district court this morning, as the result of an inquest report exonerating him from blame in causing the death of eight-year-old John Zakarowskos. On July 12, the Zakarowskos boy jumped from the rear step of an ice wagon in Davis square, and was struck by an automobile operated by the defendant. It is claimed. The youngster received injuries which resulted, it is alleged, in his death July 15, at St. John's hospital.

Judge Fisher, who presided at the inquest, found that Blake was, at the time of the accident, operating his car "in a prudent and careful manner" and "at a rate of speed consistent with the public safety." The tragedy was unavoidable on the defendant's part, according to the finding.

The case of Louis K. Rahhal, also charged with manslaughter, was put over to September 22, no inquest report yet having been returned in the case, which it is claimed is the result of another automobile tragedy.

FOLKS WHO ARE THIN

SCRAWNY, ANGULAR, HOLLOW-NECKED AND CHEEKED, SHOULD BUILD FIRM, STAY-THERE FLESH

You Are Too Thin in Your Face, Others in Chest, Shoulders or Neck, While Others Are Angular All Over

It matters little whether you have thin face, sunken neck or chest, or a thin, weak, angular body. It proves you lack that important flesh and tissue-building nourishment called vitamins, which scientists say modern cookery totally destroys in our foods. You should eat more vitamin-containing vegetables, such as lettuce, spinach and apples and reinforce them by taking from time to time with your meals a little harmless and pleasant MEDIC-YEEST, which is rich in vitamins like the vitamins in your blood and the vitamins in hulls of grain and skins of apples. MEDIC-YEEST represents flesh building vitamins in such a highly condensed form that one dose of it is estimated to be approximately equal (in vitamin content) to eating two heads of lettuce, one-half quart of spinach, one cup of green vegetables or six apples. It's like taking extract of best instead of eating pounds of meat. You can do for yourself what MEDIC-YEEST can do for you: First, weigh and measure yourself and again each week, then feed your shrunken tissues and revitalized nerves "vitamins" in the form of MEDIC-YEEST with your meals until you are satisfied with your gain in weight and strength. The scales, tape measure and mirror won't deceive you. MEDIC-YEEST is fully guaranteed by the manufacturers or your money refunded, but should not be used by anyone who objects to having their weight increased to normal. Fred Howard and A. W. Dows carry MEDIC-YEEST or other good druggists can supply you. For many reasons no other yeast can replace MEDIC-YEEST—Advt.

DIOGENES CAN DOUSE THE NEW RECORD AT MINT SAYS HE SPENT WEEK'S GLIM IN LOWELL PAY FOR TOYS

Philadelphia Plant Reaches Greatest Production in Its History

DIOGENES may blow out his lantern. His long search is ended. The park department claims to have in its employ the original honest man in the person of Richard O'Brien. One day last week Richard was tidying up the North common, after a moving picture show of the preceding evening and in making his rounds spied a purse of odd design. Investigating, he found it contained $37. That's Reel 2.

Then Richard got in touch with Supt. John W. Kernan and told him of the discovery. The superintendent told the newspapermen and within two next day or two everybody in Lowell knew that Richard had a purse and that the rightful owner might have the same with its contents by identifying it. Immediately the siege began. Within a few hours Mr. O'Brien had no less than six "phony" applicants for the money. But none of them was able to describe the property accurately. Richard refused to give up.

On Sunday morning he hit upon the idea of asking the pastor of the Greek church in Jefferson street to announce the finding of the purse. Possibly some of the members of the Greek colony had lost it. Richard reasoned. He reasoned right, for soon there came three men, one of whom described the purse and its contents to a "T" and Richard gave it over. He received a reward and ever since has been receiving the commendation of his fellow-workers for his unquestionable honesty in going far out of his way to find the owner of the money.

Philadelphia Plant Reaches Greatest Production in Its History

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 23.—The Philadelphia mint, which today has reached the greatest production in its history, is cutting down the interest-bearing debt of the United States $5,000,000 a month, according to officials of the institution.

A new record has been set in the coining of silver dollars, upon which the energies of the plant have been concentrated in order to replace the 350,000,000 coins of that denomination melted down in the course of the war to sell to the English as bullion. The average production for the last month, it was declared, has been 250,000 silver dollars a day, and on some days it has reached 275,000.

After melting, the coins sold as bullion, the government was expected to call in all silver certificates covered by them, as under the law the treasury must hold a silver dollar for each certificate issued. To cover the loss incurred in currency, short term certificates of indebtedness bearing two per cent. interest were issued. The dollars now being coined permit the issue of new silver certificates, which are being used in calling in the certificates of indebtedness.

The Philadelphia plant is turning out as much as the government's two other mints, San Francisco and Denver, combined, but nevertheless, it probably will two two years to replace the coins melted.

Brooklyn Man Has Rapid Recuperation After Typhoid Fever

Mr. Walter Cuneo, of 523 Clinton Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., was in a very weak state after an attack of typhoid fever. Only those who have gone through that terribly wasting disease know the pitifully weak and exhausted condition in which it leaves the patient.

In a recent letter relating his experience, Mr. Cuneo says:

"When I was able to get up and walk around, the doctor said it would be fully a month or more before I would get back strength. I had pains on both of my sides and around my heart. One evening my brother saw your advertisement in the newspapers and my mother got me a large bottle of Wincrenol."

"By the time I had finished the bottle the pains on my right side were gone. I continued to take Wincrenol and soon the pain on my left side and around my heart disappeared and I quickly became well and strong and was feeling fine long before the time the doctor had said it would take me to get well."

"My friends couldn't get over how rapidly I was improving and kept asking me what it was that I was taking. That made me look so well so quick."

There is no more trustworthy general tonic than Wincrenol for those who wish to regain their strength quickly after a wasting illness.

Wincrenol enriches the blood, invigorates the nerves, promotes nutrition and increases the forces of resistance of the entire system to disease. It is composed of substances that render it wonderfully beneficial where the system has "run-down" and become weak. The blood is poor, the nerves are "unstrung," the organs lack functional power and the entire body is in want of the degree of vigor that denotes normal robustness and stamina.

Wincrenol is put up in two sizes—$1.10 and $1.95. It is sold by Burkinshaw Drug Co., 416-418 Middlesex st., and all first-class drug stores.

INSPECTION BY GEN. PERSHING

A. E. F. Commander-in-Chief
Pays Tribute to Young
Soldiers at Devens

Greets Gen. Edwards and
Praises 26th Division—
Meets Old Schoolmate

CAMP DEVENS, Aug. 23.—Marching like veterans, their shoulders back, their heads held high and their alignment well-nigh perfect, the 26th New England boys who are students at the Citizens' Military Training camp here yesterday passed in review before Gen. John J. Pershing, head of all the armies of the United States; Major General Clarence R. Edwards, commander of the 1st Corps Area; Brig. Gen. Mark L. Hersey, commander of Camp Devens; Gov. Percival P. Baxter of Maine and many other dignitaries, both civil and military.

Under the kindly smiling eyes of this bronzed and grizzled veteran, who, as Gen. Hersey put it, "under the providence of God brought the world war to a victorious close," the students—many of them just little boys—covered themselves with glory, astonishing not only the visitors by the finish of their performance, but literally amazing their own officers—for this was the first time they were ever called upon to stage a public ceremonial review and the second time they have ever been reviewed as a unit under any conditions.

Praised by Pershing
For the boys themselves it was a proud occasion. They have met, talked with, been reviewed by and been spoken to and congratulated by the famous "Black Jack" Pershing.

"I congratulate you. You are fine boys and good soldiers, and by your action in coming here voluntarily you have shown that you are fine American citizens, for you are not only preparing yourselves for service to your country, should it ever need you, but you also show a desire for clean, strong, healthy bodies. And that is what every good American should have."

That is what they were told collectively, and many of them individually, by this man whose face in repose looks tired and sad, and very much older than it did when he was at Camp Devens ten years ago.

Dressed in civilian clothes, General Pershing arrived at the Ayer station at 10:35. He was accompanied by his aid, Maj. George C. Marshall. They were met at the station by Gen. Hersey, Col. Bolles and Maj. M. C. Mitchell. Gen. Pershing drove direct to Gen. Hersey's house in camp. There he changed to his uniform, the tunic of

CORN TIME

"WHAT DO YOU WANT, COBBLE?" ASKED THE LITTLE GIRL.

For a while Sprinkle-Blow was very busy, for after Wally Woodchuck started on his vacation, everyone got the fever, and everyone wanted different kind of weather. Folks going north wanted it warm, those going south wanted it cool, people going to sea wanted a breeze to help the sailing, fishermen wanted it calm. Hunters wanted it damp so the leaves wouldn't crackle and give 'em away, and sight-seers like Wally wanted it clear.

"I see that other folks' vacation-time is no time for me to be taking a vacation," said Sprinkle-Blow to Nancy and Nick. "About the only thing for me to do is to wait until Christmas and take my vacation then."

"Christmas?" exclaimed Nick. "Why that's the time we need the most weather, Mr. Sprinkle-Blow. You've no idea how we count on it."

"Well," said Sprinkle-Blow thoughtfully, "I won't take any vacation then, which means but a single ribbon, despite the fact that he has several banks of ribbons denoting decorations he has received. He then went to the main parade ground, where hundreds of visitors and the entire body of students of the C.M.T.C. were awaiting him."

Meets Old Schoolmate
For a few minutes he was kept busy acknowledging introductions. It paid particular attention to one man, and no one felt at all slighted because of this.

Lieut. Thomas Morlarty has been a helpless paralytic for 17 years. He was an officer in the regular army and Pershing was his cadet captain back in the old days at West Point. No one but the inviolable himself knew how much suffering it cost, but some hour, with the help of friends and relatives, Lieut. Morlarty had his wheelchair lifted onto a light automobile truck, and thus he came to Camp Devens to greet the friend of his youth.

Gen. Pershing climbed up on the motor truck and leaned over his old friend, who is unable even to turn his head, let alone raise his hand. For a few moments they conversed together, and the general's eyes were misty as he descended from the truck.

Pershing and Edwards Meet
When Gen. Edwards arrived on the field Gen. Pershing had started to ward the point where the troops were drawn up. Gen. Edwards advanced and saluted his commander-in-chief.

"How do you do, Gen. Edwards," said Gen. Pershing cordially.

"How do you do, Gen. Pershing," replied Gen. Edwards.

And still grasping Gen. Edwards' hand, Gen. Pershing continued toward the troops, drawing the former Y-D commander along with him.

The bugles sang. Col. Bolles galloped his horse up to Gen. Pershing and asked his pleasure. The general expressed a desire to inspect the entire regiment of students, and the order boomed across the parade ground.

"Prepare for inspection!"

After all, one may as well be doing something.

By 'n' by all the people were home again, all except Chris Crow and Cob Coon, for they hadn't gone at all. They were afraid of missing something.

Corn it was just coming along fine. The hot dry spell that lasted through harvest-time and Wally's vacation was fairly pulling it out of the ground. It grew so fast. And ears! Really if corn-cobs could hear, I'm sure there wouldn't have been any secrets left in the world, the field was so full!

One day Mr. Sprinkle-Blow and Nancy and Nick (who had gone back to the weatherman's house on the star) heard the phone ring, and Nancy answered it. It was Cob Coon.

"What do you want, Cobble?" asked the little girl.

WANNAMAKER FLAYS RESERVE BOARD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Federal reserve board policies in connection with price and currency deflation are "cynical, cruel and inexcusable," and constitute "financial tyranny and commercial criminality," J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton Association, charged yesterday before a joint congressional agricultural committee. The board's methods, he added, are "stealing gold in the United States at the expense of all civilization."

Speaking, he said, for agricultural producers, he said the reserve board is responsible for the general price decline. The board's pressure still was being exerted upon "bankers who are afraid of their shadow, who may find all their loans called by the reserve banks any minute, and dare not disobey its orders," according to Mr. Wannamaker, who asked the committee to recommend legislation for general revision of the reserve board personnel. He proposed that the personnel be composed of 12 members, nominated from the various districts as representatives of industry instead of banking, who should be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate. Further, he suggested that the committee recommend the instant reduction in federal reserve re-discount rates to a basis of 3 1/2 per cent. on liberty loan collateral.

"The federal reserve banking system, created to serve the people, by its administration, has made the people's voice of the system," he asserted. "Its policy will require the American people to pay with deflated dollars a national debt borrowed in inflated dollars."

Price declines that have been effected lately, he declared, will not help consumers, because they have left nothing for agricultural producers to do but combine and reduce production to low in the future that prices will give us some portion of profit and let us pay our debts.

TEST AIRPLANE UNIT TO COMMAND OCEAN

WARWICK, R. I., Aug. 23.—Final tests were made here yesterday under United States Naval supervision of a power unit of three huge Liberty airplane engines geared to one 18-foot propeller, by which, according to those making the tests, it is hoped to establish an airplane cruising radius sufficient to command the ocean.

Lieut. R. Christensen, U.S.N., engineer of the NC-1 during the transatlantic flight of that craft, was in charge of the tests, which were said to have been successful.

The military importance of the development is declared to be of a significant greater even than the commercial, as it is claimed an airplane of three or more units, representing a total of 4000 horsepower, will have a cruising radius exceeding 3000 miles and a carrying capacity of 12 tons of explosives.

It is declared to be the first time that Liberty motors have been geared down to a propeller with a clutch system. Each unit has three Liberty motors, two riding tandem and one trailing. The plan consists of the adaptation of the clutch, which made the automobile practicable, coupled with gears which enable the propeller and engines to operate at a maximum efficiency.

The engines and giant propeller were mounted on a test stand, 25 feet high, and operated with one, two or three units was demonstrated. The propeller was turned at 300 revolutions per minute and the engines at 1500, which it was said, has long been sought as one of the missing elements necessary to practical commercial flying.

The power unit will be delivered to the United States Navy department within a few days, it was announced.

Worcester Man Killed in Climb for Horse Chestnuts

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 23.—Everett M. Paddock of Worcester, Mass., was fatally injured at the home of his father here yesterday when he fell from a ladder to the sidewalk while clearing horse-chestnuts from a tree in the yard. He died shortly after in the Rhode Island hospital.

Mr. Paddock has been annoyed in previous years by boys who stoned the trees to obtain chestnuts, and decided to forestall them by removing the nuts while they were green.

Peter Cooper Hewitt in Paris Hospital

PARIS, Aug. 23.—The condition of Peter Cooper Hewitt, the American scientist and electrical inventor, who was operated on for abdominal trouble on Tuesday last, has been complicated by an attack of pneumonia. He was reported today to be holding his own in the American hospital.

RARE COINS EXHIBITED

One Coined 700 B. C. at Aegina Among Those Displayed at Boston Exhibition

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Obscure and rare coins dated hundreds of years before Christ were included in the exhibition of the American Numismatic society which opened its annual convention here today. Members from 33 states and a dozen European and South American countries contributed to the display of odd coins and currency.

Colonial coins were shown in great numbers, as were Baltimore greaves, named after the English great of the black prince's time; shillings, six-penny pieces and New York state pieces, all somewhat tarnished but worth many times their original value. The queerest coins in the exhibition were those from Spain. They are irregular lumps of silver, ranging from a pea to a walnut in size according to the value represented. What was said to be the oldest coin in the United States and the smallest value ever issued was shown by a southern collector. It is known as the "Mito" and its face value is one-fifth of an American cent. It is hexagonal in shape and was coined 700 B.C. at Aegina. The design in high relief represents a tortoise crawling across the face of the piece.

Rare American coins included one of the 1504 dollars, of which it is said but seven are in existence. The dollars, coined for the purpose of paying off sailors and marines engaged in fighting pirates off the Barbary coast, were loaded aboard a ship which was never heard from. Fifteen-cent pieces, which were never put in circulation, were also found on display. They bore the heads of Grant and Sherman and their circulation was prohibited because of a law passed at the time forbidding the use of money. Many examples of private paper currency were shown, among which were 25c notes issued by local firms about 1860.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Results in Great Britain and Dominions Standing as One Great Commonwealth

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Great Britain and her dominions stand before the world as one great commonwealth as a result of the deliberations of the Imperial conference, declared Premier Hughes of Australia, speaking at a dinner given by the British Empire league last night. In his address Mr. Hughes advocated a protective tariff so that high wages might be maintained in the British dominions.

"We depend upon each other," he declared, "not only for safety and security but for daily bread. The dominions and the people of these islands are bound by many ties, but by none more real and safe than those of buyers and customers. The dominions are the best customers England has, and Great Britain is the best buyer in the world of the products of the dominions."

Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies, presided at the dinner.

OPENS FIVE PARACHUTES IN LEAP FROM PLANE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 23.—A quintuple parachute jump—five chutes released one after the other in a 5000-foot fall—was accomplished for what was said to be the first time, by W. B. Bottomfield of Nelson, Minn. Several thousand persons witnessed the feat. Bottomfield, an ex-army aviator, was taken up by Capt. Ray Miller. He had five chutes of varying sizes fitted into head and attached to his harness. After he had leaped from the plane and dropped 250 feet his first parachute opened. This he cut loose with a knife and dropped rapidly until the second chute opened, which also was cut. This was repeated with the other parachutes.

EX-BOSTON POLICEMAN HELD FOR ROBBERY

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Patrick J. Kane, who said he was a Boston policeman until discharged with other strikers and who had an old Boston police shield, was arrested today charged with robbery. Cornelius J. Callahan, a Jersey City junk dealer, was beaten and robbed of his watch and $35 soon after leaving a Saratoga train in Harlem. Kane was caught after a chase and a threat to shoot by a policeman. Callahan recovered what had been taken from him.

CARMEN FAVOR THE PLUMB PLAN

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Resolutions favoring the relations of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America to stand by any action the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor may take in dealing with the United States labor board's recent ruling on overtime pay, were adopted by the carmen at the closing session of their convention here late yesterday.

The convention also adopted the minority report of the committee on industrial democracy of the federation. This action was construed as tantamount to an endorsement of the Plumb plan for the management of railways in the United States.

The temperature on the island of Majorca, near Spain, is said to remain at about 75 degrees the year round.

GRANDMA PANTALETTES — ABBREVIATED

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Of course, the kiddies can't wear ankle-length pantallettes like their great-grandmothers did.

Nevertheless, they just can't help keeping up with that back-to-grandmother fashion tendency.

A new has the pantallette been developed in such dainty and ornate fashions as those the little folks of today are wearing. While the Parisian decree for their elders has been "skirts longer," the edict for the small miss has been "skirts shorter," to show the panties.

A real "confection" is the Pidgey panty frock of pink crepe in soft tints of ruffles. The panties, too, are be-ruffled and be-dowered. And the children love to show them beneath the short frocks which reach far above the knee.

Another Pidgey panty frock for a tiny girl is so be-ruffled it looks like a yellow rose.

The French school girl isn't the only one to wear black aprons. The Sosy Jane apron of black silk with gay designs of contrasting colors is one of the little girl's most popular dresses. With these are worn the full, tight-banded panties like bloomers.

MATRIMONIAL

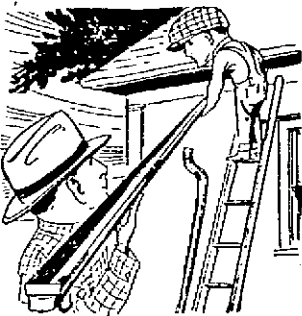

Leroy C. Ross and Miss Taman George were married Sunday in St. George's rectory. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Louis Hamad of New York, while the best man was Mr. Norman Ross of Malone, N. Y., brother of the groom. The couple will make their home at 25 Whitney avenue, Cambridge.

MEDFORD'S TWIN CHIEFS

RIDE IN SAME AUTO

MEDFORD, Aug. 23.—Medford fire department's "twin chiefs," Thomas A. Qualey, deceased by Mayor Haines and related by the board of aldermen, and Deputy Chief W. Burton Harvey, designated as acting chief by the mayor with instructions to run the department and put out fires, rode together in the Medford chief of the fire department's big red auto, in response to an alarm from box 71 about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

The two fire officials jumped into the auto from opposite sides. Both laughed as "Chief" Qualey grabbed hold of the steering wheel and started the car on its mile run to the fire in a bedroom of the two-apartment wooden house at 578 Main st., South Medford.

The blaze started in a closet on the upper floor and caused about $500 damage to the room, closet and clothing stored within. The chemical lines put out the fire.

The house is owned by Morris Resnick and Abraham Zach Jondy. Zach lives on the second floor. His loss is covered by insurance.

Shortly after noon an alarm came in from box 76 for a fire in a barn near Tufts Park. Chief Qualey got the jump on Acting Chief Harvey and went to the fire in Chief Qualey's auto. Acting Chief Harvey was at lunch when the alarm came in. He looked over, however, and stood watching things with Chief Qualey.

While the two were conversing, Mayor Haines drove up. He asked Acting Chief Harvey if everything was going all right. Receiving an affirmative answer he soon drove away.

Two payrolls were sent to City Auditor Crowley yesterday, one by each "chief." On one, that sent by Acting Chief Harvey, Chief Qualey's name was omitted. The city auditor said that he had not checked up the payrolls but would probably do so today.

Attorney Shanahan, for Chief Qualey, said yesterday that unless his client is allowed to fill the job of chief he will ask the court for a writ of mandamus to bring about his recognition as chief.

Cleo Ridgley, Mother of Twins, Returns to Screen

CLEO RIDGLEY, SHE RETURNS TO THE SCREEN AS A VILLAINESS IN "THE WOMAN IN THE CASE," FILM VERSION OF CLYDE FITCH'S PLAY. SHE HAS TWO DIRECTORS IN HER HOME. THEY'RE TWINS—JIM AND JUNE.

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Cleo Ridgley, mother of twice and erstwhile heroine of the films, returns to the screen as a villainess.

She was one of the first movie actresses and appeared in many pictures until four years ago when she married James W. Horne, a director.

Her twins, Jim and June, demanded so much of her attention that she remained out of pictures until a year ago when she appeared in several pictures and retired again.

"I'm glad to be back at the studio and I'm back to stay," she says this time. She plays a heavy lead opposite Betty Compson in "The Woman in the Case," Thelma directed by Penrhyn Stanlaw.

Miss Ridgley was one of the first movie actresses to start the now popular custom of personal appearances. She rode across the continent horseback, spending six months doing it.

After arriving in California she was co-starred with Wallace Reid. Then Wallace was cast with Geraldine Farrar and Lou Tellegen was Cleo's leading man. What do you think of that for the "long arm of coincidence?"

Now she is doing solid portraiture and seems to be doing that with the same facility with which she performed in the other two modes.

In his first important motion picture he creates artistic effects that set the pace for veteran directors to follow.

However, Stanlaw still has something to learn about lighting effects.

Many scenes in "At the End of the World" were poorly lighted.

INSTRUCTION BY MOVIES
The attention of teachers interested in instruction by means of motion pictures has been called to a test made in the last term of a Detroit school.

One group of pupils was given an oral lesson of 55 minutes. Another group of equal intelligence was given a motion picture lesson of 13 minutes. In a subsequent test on the lesson the group taught by motion pictures made an average 3.5 per cent higher than that of the orally instructed class.

GROWTH OF TWO-REELERS
The two-reel drama grows in public favor as the film industry is being readjusted. Many theatres are planning programs of short subjects with short dramas as the core.

The Selig-Rork two-reel dramas from stories by well-known authors probably take first rank for merit, with actors such as Lewis Stone, Wallace Beery and William Desmond in them.

The Tom Santschi two-reelers also have capable casts. In his next one, "The Honor of Rameriz," Santschi is supported by Beulah Love, Ruth Stonehouse, Tom Lingham and Edward Moran.

Holman Day's stories of the Maine lumber camps are also proving popular in the two-reel form.

THE MOVIE-THEATRE
Edith Storey's hands are acclaimed perfect by artists.

Mary Miles Minter, back from Europe, resumes work at Hollywood. A real polo game is shown in "Don't Tell Everything." Said to be the first in a feature picture.

Larry Semon, who used to be a cartoonist, illustrates his scenarios with action he plans for his comedies. Shirley Mason's repertoire sounds like a poker hand. After she completes "Queenie" she is to do "Jackie."

"The City Feller," an original story by Julius Josephson, is to be produced by Goldwyn. Josephson wrote many of Charlie Ray's rural comedies.

POLLARD FEELS LIKE A BOY AGAIN

CAMBRIDGE CITIZEN SAYS HE HASN'T A TRACE OF FORMER TROUBLES LEFT

H. M. Pollard, Box 25, Sharon, Mass., is still another enthusiastic witness to the wonderful merits of Tanlac. Mr. Pollard has been a valued employee of the American Net & Tackle Co., Cambridge, for the past 20 years, and is highly respected by all who know him. Tanlac has made me for an instant as I did when I was a school boy," said Mr. Pollard, "and my work is like a child's play compared to what it used to be. Why, for three years I was in such bad shape that I was just about all I could do to stay on the job. I had scarcely any appetite, my stomach was terribly disordered, and I was plagued with gas until I felt like I would smother at times. My stomach pained me so intensely that frequently it just drew me double. My nerves were shattered, and my sleep was so restless and broken that it did me little good. I felt miserable and worn out all the time, and couldn't find anything to help me until I got Tanlac.

Friend of mine from Hampton Beach, N. H., persuaded me to try Tanlac, and I felt a big improvement before the first bottle was half gone. Three bottles have followed, and all my troubles are set me right again. I eat just anything I want, and never have an ache or pain of any kind, and sleep like a top at night. In fact, I feel like I could get out on Adams square and clip off a hundred yards dash with most anybody. Tanlac, the greatest medicine I ever heard of, and I can't recommend it too highly.

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass.; A. D. Falls, Chelmsford, Mass.; Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass.; and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

SURPRISE AT ROLL CALL

Police Captain Thomas K. Atkinson Gets Gifts and Words of Praise

The gift of two leather upholstered armchairs, together with a box of cigars, Capt. Thom. K. Atkinson, came as a surprise feature of roll call last night in police headquarters. Members of all three shifts assembled to pay tribute to the popular official of the local department, who yesterday ended his connection with the night shift, and was elevated to the position of head of the criminal investigation department here. Patrolman Edward W. Flanagan made the presentation for the men, while Clerk of the Police Court Edward W. Trull presented a box of cigars on the part of the personnel of his office. The captain in a brief speech thanked his well wishers.

Captain David E. Peirce was about to call the roll when Patrolman Flanagan, as head of the committee appointed for the occasion, stepped forward and delivered the following speech:

"Many people believe that policemen, owing to their calling which makes for prosecution—some maintain the prosecution of their fellow men, are calloused to all the emotions of life. In fact, they balance so well with men in any occupation. Only they have better opportunity for analysis of current offensive happenings locally; and their very duties instruct them to be sceptical until they are shown."

"This incident that is now happening is called forth by the attitude of sentiment for one of their own calling, who by his efficient, thoughtful and kindly handling of men and matters that came under his direction, has gained to an extraordinary degree, such place in their esteem that it seems very in some sense, which is afforded them by the change that has been made under the mayor's order, whereby he goes from night work to day work.

"The position he has occupied has been very exacting and busy, a calling for rapid mental action and a great deal of it. But through all trying conditions he maintained consistently, day by day, year by year, those sterling qualities that have endeared him to the men, and made inroads into their feelings that will always endure.

A community is fortunate in having as an executive officer or public servant in any capacity, a man of his qualities; prompt and courteous, with hard common-sense, no frills, thoughtful of others to the last degree, approachable and kindly, whether the case be good or bad.

"This is the kind of official that brings the doing which is the fulfilment in the operations of the big departments, as a team-work—so sought after, so seldom attained. May he long enjoy his present position or a greater one. Let us hope that the qualities he has shown may serve as an inspiration to those who follow him in the future."

"Captain Atkinson, the men of the department have joined to show their esteem for you and I present to you by their wishes, these chairs. We hope that you will derive comfort and freedom from care in their use and that they will be a reminder of the good work you have done."

Mr. Trull next spoke, honoring the captain as man and officer. He expressed the confidence that in his new position the captain will display again the ability with which he has occupied the position of night captain during the past 12 years. Superintendent of Police William Welch also congratulated Captain Atkinson upon his appointment by the mayor, while Mayor Perry D. Thomson, who was also present, likewise paid tribute to Captain Atkinson.

RED CROSS OFFICIAL ACCUSED OF LARCENY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—C. E. Wilson, second assistant treasurer of the American Red Cross, was arrested yesterday charged with larceny following an audit of his books, which showed, according to Inspector Lindsey, a larceny of about $14,000. The warrant specifically charged the theft of $100, but Red Cross officials said this was only one of a number of charges against Wilson. According to the police, Wilson admitted shortages of more than $100,000 and admitted his intention to gamble on horse races.

Director Parrand, in a statement announcing the result of the audit of Wilson's books, said the shortage concerned only subsidiary accounts used in conducting the operations of headquarters. Parrand said that the funds of the Red Cross, which can only be drawn on by checks signed by two officers, were not involved in any way. The loss, he said, was fully covered by a surety bond.

WHICH IS MOST FAMOUS LOWELL WOMAN?

Who are the great women in the history of Massachusetts? What Lowell woman's name heads the list?

The woman's national foundation, adopting the suggestion of its executive committee, Mrs. Geo. Barnett, U. S. Marine Corps, will incorporate in its new civic home in Washington a hall of remembrance to the famous women of America. In this hall will be a column for each state in the Union, on which the women whose memory is considered worthy of commemoration will have their names inscribed. As the foundation is not an arbitrary body, it aims to be a service rather than a mere public display. The choice of names suitable for commemoration will be left entirely to the people of each state.

Suggestions are now requested from the public, to be passed on later by a local board when the foundation appoints its state committees. It is considered desirable that there should be a name to represent every period from colonial times to the present day. Living women, however, are excluded. Suggestions may be mailed to the Woman's National Foundation, Connecticut ave., N. W., Washington, D. C.

It means that famous vocalists and instrumentalists have compared their performances with the RE-CREATION of those performances by the New Edison. It means that there is no difference between the living performance and the RE-CREATED performance. It means that only the New Edison gives music exactly as great artists give it,—for only the New Edison sustains this test of direct comparison. TWO LAWRENCE GIRLS DROWN AS CANOE TIPS

MADISON, N. H., Aug. 23.—Miss Gertrude M. Townsend and Miss Sadie M. Scott, two Lawrence, Mass., young women, who were spending their vacation here at the Lake Side house, were drowned early yesterday while canoeing on Silver Lake. The body of Miss Scott was recovered early last evening in about 10 feet of water but up to a late hour the body of Miss Townsend had not been located by the authorities.

The young women went out in a canoe shortly after lunch and although there were several others near the lake at the time none was near the girls when their light craft capsized, precipitating them into the water. It is thought that they attempted to change seats in the canoe when it overturned. Several other canoeists paddled toward the upset craft but its two occupants had disappeared before they reached the point in deep water where they went down.

Search parties made up of summer visitors organized for the bodies soon afterward, and their efforts were rewarded just before dark when that of Miss Scott was brought to the surface. It was viewed by Medical Examiner Hudson of Mountlake and later turned over to an undertaker, who commended her to the care of her mother, a woman in Lawrence, Mass.

The young women had been here a little more than a week and, according to some of the summer guests here, had been seen on the lake in a canoe before.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 23.—Miss Scott and Miss Gertrude M. Townsend, who were drowned yesterday at Silver Lake, N. H., where they were spending their vacation, were well known in this city.

Miss Scott was about 24 and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Scott of 24 Whitman st. She was employed as a bookkeeper in a local store.

Miss Townsend, who was about the same age as her companion, made her home with a relative at 32 Broadway. She was employed as a clerk in a local store.

FIVE MEN BLOWN TO ATOMS IN EXPLOSION

MECHANICVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 23.—Five men were killed and a sixth injured probably fatally by the explosion yesterday afternoon of a battery of three high pressure boilers in the plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Co. The force of the explosion, the origin of which is not known, tore the roof of the building and hurled it into the Hudson, 100 feet away.

The dead, all of whom were employed in or near the boiler room, were literally blown to pieces. They are Joe Geronovsky, Adam Geronco, Harrison Dredent and Steven Holinski of Saratoga Springs, and Joe Decota of Stillwater. Wilbur Brown of this town, was seriously injured.

The accident happened 20 minutes after the plant had resumed operations after the noon hour. The boilers were used in the process of cooking wood into pulp and each carried 125 pounds of steam.

GAS PLANT PROBE IN LAWRENCE

LAWRENCE, Aug. 23.—The city council yesterday named William L. Puffer, an electrical engineer and expert with offices at 10 Milk st., Boston, to be the city's expert in the investigation of the Lawrence Gas company. The city solicitor, Daniel J. Murphy, will look after the legal matters.

Members of the city council believe that the present price of $1.70 per 1000 cubic feet, with 10 per cent discount, is excessive. Officials of the gas company announced during July that if the proposed probe was dropped, the price of gas would be reduced to 10 cents on Aug. 1. The council refused to do this, however.

Mr. Puffer's terms are as follows: For the cost of a complete report on the situation, capital, management, etc., of the company, $1000; testing the gas and electricity furnished, $500; for attendance at court, $75 per day; a retainer of $1000 to be paid immediately. The council also voted final adoption of an order for a special appropriation of $10,000 as an initial cost of the investigation.

Change water in the cooling system weekly.

DENIAL BY SEN. REED

Declares Report That He Attacked Prohibitionists Erroneous

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Senator Reed of Missouri, issued a statement last night saying erroneous reports had been circulated to the effect that he had attacked prohibitionists "and likened them to the burners of witches."

"I have never criticized any man because he is a prohibitionist, and recognize the right of every individual to believe in and to advocate absolute prohibition," he said. "I stated in my speeches that the 18th amendment, being a part of the constitution, was binding on me and everybody else. I stated that I had made no opposition to the Volstead act because I recognized the fact that the 18th amendment was the fundamental law of the land."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Selection of the town of Mansfield and the county of Richland, Ohio, as the location of its five-year experiment in the development of children, was announced today by the National Child Health Council. The Ohio communities were picked from eighty which sought the distinction, as most nearly complying with the qualifications of a typical American community. The demonstration will be conducted, the council announced, to show what can be done through concerted action to increase the health and strength of the rising generation.

Urges $500,000,000 to Aid Unemployed

Nine High Schools "Honor" Institutions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Nine high schools were officially recognized by the war department today as "honor" institutions and designated as such because of the "especially high standards of military training and soldierly discipline" maintained by them in training members of the junior units, reserve officers' corps. The only one in New England is at Gloucester, Mass.

American Officers Take Charge of the Dirigible ZR-2 for Trial Trip at Howden, England, Today

"DOCKED" AT THE MOORING MAST

This picture shows a dirigible "docked" at a mooring mast in England. The ZR-2, Uncle Sam's new "crow's nest" at the top of the mast, the dirigible to be always pointing into the wind. Passengers ascend the mast in elevators, entering the boat pipe lines. Dirigibles have been used for months at a time.

HOWDEN, England, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—The dirigible ZR-2, purchased from Great Britain by the United States, commenced a trial trip this morning. The American officers were in charge of the balloon, which will start on its flight across the Atlantic to America as soon as practicable.

It was intended that today's flight would be the final test of the great airship before Commander Louis H. Maxfield of the United States Navy and his crew formally took charge of the craft. The ship's control car contained Commander Maxfield, Brigadier General S. M. Maitland, the British air marshal, and Colonel Campbell, who supervised the work of designing the dirigible. Distributed through the vast interior of the balloon were five other American officers, seven engineers and four riggers, in addition to the regular British crew.

Immediately upon taking the air the dirigible made two circuits of the camp, and then, with an American blue jacket perched in the machine gunner's nest at the very tip of the ship's stern waving good-bye, the craft headed due west and at quickly gathering speed was soon lost to view.

Before the start General Maitland said he intended maneuvering the ship over the North sea where he could show what ability she possessed in combating the wind and then to make a speedy swing to Pulham, where he expects to find the ZR-2 at her mooring mast at ten o'clock tonight.

$100,000 LOSS BY FIRE

Power Plant and Leather Board Mill at Damariscotta Mills, Maine, Burned

DAMARISCOTTA MILLS, Me., Aug. 23.—The power plant of the Lincoln County Power company, and the leather board mill of the Damariscotta Leather company were burned early today with a loss estimated at $100,000.

The fire started in the power plant from an overheated bearing and spread rapidly through the leather board mill, operated by H. M. Casper. His loss of approximately $100,000 on manufactured stock and machinery is believed to be covered by insurance.

The power plant and mill, a three-story frame structure, were owned by Burgess and Lang of Boston. The mill was the only industry of that section, and employed 35.

SUSPENDS OPERATION OF MOVIE CENSORSHIP LAW

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Operation of the motion picture censorship law passed by the last legislature was automatically suspended today when a petition for a referendum on the act was filed by Joseph J. Glancy, publicity director of the Allied theatres of Massachusetts, bearing fifty thousand voters' signatures.

Through this action the law becomes inoperative until after the state election in 1922. Only 15,000 signatures are required to effect suspension of the law pending a referendum upon it.

Latour, a resident of this city, who owns a large tract of land on the shores of Lake Massawippi at Mount Rock, has started the erection of seven summer cottages in the district, and he expects to have them completed before the snow flies. Mr. Latour stated this morning that with weather permitting he will erect another half-dozen cottages before spring.

"I am not in the habit of praising any material medicine as I am an advocate of 'New Thought'; but some time ago, I had such a bad attack of Liver and Stomach Trouble that I gave up thinking I did not have it and took 'Fruit-a-tives' or Fruit Liver Tablets.

Most gratifying was the result. It relieved my liver and stomach trouble, cleaned up my yellowish complexion and put new blood in my body. 'Fruit-a-tives' is the highest result of 'New Thought' in medicine."

PANAMA TO REPLY AUG. 24

Cabinet Considers Answer to Latest Note From Sec. of State Hughes

Armed Forces Already Ordered to Coto, with View of Opposing Costa Ricans

PANAMA, Aug. 23.—(By the Associated Press)—Panama's reply to the latest note from Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes, in which Panama was told that disputed territory along the Costa Rican frontier of this country would be placed under the jurisdiction of Costa Rica, has been considered by the cabinet and possibly will be delivered on Wednesday. American diplomatic officials here are reluctant regarding the situation, but it is known that the Panamanian reply has not as yet gone forward to Washington.

Although it is generally reported that armed forces have already been ordered to advance to Coto, in the disputed area, with a view to opposing possible Costa Rican occupation of that district, the most recent official declarations here indicate that troops have been dispatched only to David, a town some distance from the boundary. It is said they have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness there to march toward Coto whenever orders are received. The Panamanian government, it is understood, will await further advice from Washington before taking any decided steps.

General preparations to meet emergency calls for men have been made. The chief of the fire department has been instructed to hold himself ready to remove to the frontier became necessary.

Commenting upon the situation which has developed as a result of the American note, the Star and Herald, the leading newspaper of the republic said:

"In our opinion, the United States has succeeded in this case with a point of view which is believed to be just. We have reached a critical moment. The last word has been spoken, but we should not permit ourselves to proceed passively. Let us think of the future of the country before everything. Above all, let us not compromise that future by an act of madness."

EX-HUNGARIAN PREMIER SPEAKS AT WILLIAMS

WILLIAMSTOWN, Aug. 23.—The attention of the English-speaking world was attracted today by a Magyar race in Hungary no more an act of oppression than to endeavor to Americanize foreign races in this country, declared Count Paul Teleki, former Hungarian premier, in a lecture before the Institute of Politics at Williams college today.

His non-Magyar races here are able to communicate with one another in Rumanian, Slovakian, Serbian or Ruthenian, he said, "there would hardly have been an excuse for substituting Hungarian for the language spoken by the majority of the population. But no one could do this in the United States. The Magyar race could communicate with another without the intermediary of another language known to all. The transplantation of English, French or Italian, completely strange to all, would have been just as absurd as the introduction of Magyar in the United States."

"Thus," the speaker continued, "the choice lay between German and Hungarian. The Austrian government had done its utmost for establishing German for centuries. It had failed not only because the German element was but a small element in Hungary, but also because the individual culture of the country was Hungarian and not German. The development and spread of Hungarian was a life and death struggle not merely cultural but also political in a country lying on the path of Germany's expansion towards the east. Thus it is not 'New Thought' in the successful struggle to spread the Hungarian language in order to supplant the German of the absolute ruler in Hungary, the chief loser was Germany and not the language of any other of the larger groups of non-Magyars in the realm."

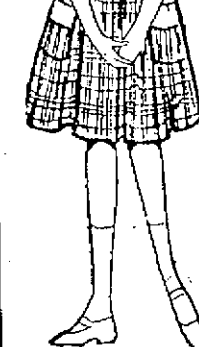

CLOSE NAVY YARD SMELTING PLANT

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 23.—The smelting plant at the navy yard was closed today on orders from the navy department. The plant has been in operation seven years, scrap iron and other old materials being brought here from navy yards and stations all along the Atlantic coast to be melted. Twenty-five civilians are employed. An announcement of a proposal for transferring work from the boat shop at the local yard to Brooklyn has aroused Mayor Hartford and the chamber of commerce and steps are being taken to have the work retained.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents.)

B. F. KELTH'S THEATRE

The advance sale of tickets for the opening week of high class vaudeville at the B. F. Kelth theatre begins tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Everything is in readiness for the start of this, the eleventh season, at this popular house. As usual, there has been much touching up in the theatre, and a number of changes for the better have been made in stage facilities.

Manager Pickett has secured many of his bookings for the early part of the season, and these include many acts which have never been here in the past. A goodly smattering of foreign acts, which have been favored in European capitals, will be seen and heard from time to time.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

What constitutes true happiness? The age-old question is forcefully and convincingly answered in the feature play at the Merrimack Square theatre during the first half of the week. "The Foolish Matrons" is one of the best things Maurice Tourneur has ever done. True, it depicts much of the sordid life but it does so with a touch of realism and knows the three matrons who are portrayed. First, we have seen the young country girl who is a bit envious and jealous of her sisters in New York because they are able to wear fine clothes and jewelry and live a life of continuous pleasure. We've seen her neglect her studies and plodding husband because he is not able to provide her the expensive luxuries which she craves. And finally we've seen her sadly awaken to the fact that those who will provide her with such luxuries and pleasures will finally ask to collect payment. Then her castle falls and she is left with her husband and all else worth while and she becomes one of the "foolish matrons."

Such a girl was Georgia Knapp, an ambitious southern smelter who came to New York last year to get a chance to realize her desire to get to the glittering metropolis. She met men friends—one in particular—and then her castle fell and she was left with her husband and all else worth while and she becomes one of the "foolish matrons."

Another matron was the city girl all wound up in her "career." Her newspaper work was everything to her and instead of devoting herself exclusively to her profession until she had reached the heights to which she aspired, she endeavored to play the double role of newspaper worker and wife. Her husband, a poet from a Connecticut country town, acceded to her desire to live in the city, but his genius found no nourishment from drab walls and skyscrapers. Gradually he sank to the dreary life of a clerk and his wife, meanwhile, his "selective wife" career went on. She was the second foolish matron.

The third matron was Annie Grant, an actress a bit older than the other matrons and with very sensible ideas on love and marriage. The world married her for her own sake, but she had never married and one day she disclosed her great secret in a newspaper interview. Marriage, she said, would not be for her until she found the right man and then her career would be in vogue for him.

Eventually, the right man in the person of a noted surgeon came along and won her. At first they continued to live in New York, but the continual strain which the hospitals made on the surgeon's time and nerves was fast driving him to drink. However, his wife was the wise matron who married for love and, although continued success in her profession awaited her and unlimited riches from her husband's income if he remained in the city, she sacrificed it all to take up her abode in the country that her husband might find peace and relaxation.

She was not a foolish matron and her wisdom brought her and her family contentment and happiness.

Tourneur has assembled a capable cast for the interpretation of the various characters. Hobart Bosworth and Doris May play the leads.

The other big feature shown yesterday was "Moonlight and Honey-suckle," starring Mary Miles Minter.

This play, which is a half-an-hour production, has the dramatic qualities of its predecessor on the stage, but affords a delightful relief from the tension of the Tourneur production. The story is full of delightful complications and Miss Minter is charming as ever in a half-an-hour play.

A comedy and the International News complete the bill.

THE STRAND THEATRE

The bill at The Strand for the earlier part of the week includes two long pictures, "The Man Who" and "Thunder Island," besides the International News Weekly and a comedy. The Strand on this occasion gives a presentation that is excellent. Bert Lytell is featured in "The Man Who" and does very well indeed in a half-an-hour play. He plays a novel character—a war veteran who has taken up the civilian struggle after the tumult and the shouting of war enthusiasm has died. He conceives a passion for a society girl, and for a time fails to understand that a bank clerk cannot marry a daughter of gold; at least after the armistice has been signed. Stimulated by a desire to appear a wonder in her eyes, he develops a novel manner of becoming famous. This expedient is none other than the practice of going barefooted as a protest against the high price of shoes. His gilded goddess, however, frowns upon this method of winning recognition from her, and he is left with the realization that the practice of going barefooted is a protest against the high price of shoes. His gilded goddess, however, frowns upon this method of winning recognition from her, and he is left with the realization that the practice of going barefooted is a protest against the high price of shoes.

It is a society queen also. Of course, it could all happen only in the movies, but it is very pleasant.

"Thunder Island" has for its star a young lady named Edith Roberts. She is very cute and pretty, and can act. The scenery of the picture is excellent. There is a most picturesque scene, and a most beautiful coast line. The plot is simple, dealing with the conflict between good and evil individuals, and the conquest by the former.

The children were especially delighted with the film, and frequently snatched their appreciation by applause, although they sometimes discovered that their pleasure had been premature, for the villains frequently disrupted the efforts of the hero and his friends to circumvent them.

Meets Old Schoolmate

CAMP DEVENS, Aug. 23.—Marching like veterans, their shoulders back, their heads held high and their alignment well-nigh perfect, the 1200 New England lads who are students at the Citizens' Military Training camp here yesterday passed in review before Gen. John J. Pershing, head of all the armies of the United States; Major General Clarence H. Edwards, commander of the 1st Corps Area; Brig. Gen. Mark H. Hersey, commander of Camp Devens; Gov. Percival P. Baxter of Maine and many other dignitaries, both civil and military.

Under the kindly smiling eyes of this bronzed and grizzled veteran, who, as Gen. Hersey put it, "under the providence of God brought the world war to a victorious close," the students—many of them just little boys—covered themselves with glory, astonishing not only the visitors by the flash of their performance, but by literally amazing their own officers—for this was the first time they were ever called upon to stage a public regimental review and the second time they have ever been reviewed as a unit under any conditions.

Prattled by Pershing

For the boys themselves it was a proud occasion. They have not, talked with, been reviewed by and been spoken to and congratulated by the famous "Black Jack" Pershing. "I congratulate you. You are fine boys and good soldiers, and by your action in coming here voluntarily you have shown that you are fine American citizens, for you are not only preparing yourselves for service to your country, should she ever need you but you also show a desire for clean, strong, healthy bodies. And that is what every good American should have."

That is what they were told collectively, and many of them individually, by this man whose face in repose looks tired and sad, and very much older than it did when he was at Camp Devens two years ago.

Dressed in civilian clothes, General Pershing arrived at the Ayer station at 10:25. He was accompanied by his aid, Maj. George C. Marshall. They were met at the station by Gen. Hersey, Col. Holmes and Maj. M. C. Mitchell. Gen. Pershing drove direct to Gen. Hersey's house in camp. There he changed to his uniform, the tunic of

"WHAT DO YOU WANT, COBBIE?" ASKED THE LITTLE GIRL

For a while Sprinkle-Blow was very busy, for after Wally Woodchuck started on his vacation, everyone got the fever, and everyone wanted different kind of weather. Folks going north wanted it warm, those going south wanted it cool, people going to sea wanted a breeze to help the sailing, fishermen wanted it calm. Hunters wanted it damp so the leaves wouldn't crackle and give 'em away, and sight-seers like Wally wanted it clear.

"I see that other folks' vacation-time is no time for me to be taking a vacation," said Sprinkle-Blow to Nancy and Nick. "About the only thing for me to do is to wait until Christmas and take my vacation then." "Christmas!" exclaimed Nick. "Why that's the time we need the most weather, Mr. Sprinkle-Blow. You've no idea how we count on it!"

"Well," said Sprinkle-Blow thoughtfully, "I won't take any vacation then."

which bears but a single ribbon, despite the fact that he has several banks of ribbons denoting decorations he has received. He then went to the main parade ground, where hundreds of visitors and the entire body of students of the C.M.T.C. were awaiting him.

Meets Old Schoolmate

For a few minutes he was kept busy acknowledging introductions, he paid particular attention to one man, and no one felt at all slighted because of it.

Lieut. Thomas Moriarty has been a helpless paralytic for 17 years. He was an officer in the regular army and Pershing was his cadet captain back in the old days at West Point. No one but the invalid himself knows how much suffering it cost, but somehow, with the help of friends and relatives, Lieut. Moriarty had his wheel chair lifted onto a light automobile truck, and thus he came to Camp Devens to greet the friend of his youth.

Gen. Pershing climbed up on his motor truck and leaned over his old friend, who is unable even to turn his head, let alone raise his hand. For a few moments they conversed together, and the general's eyes were moist as he descended from the truck.

Pershing and Edwards Meet
When Gen. Edwards arrived on the field Gen. Pershing started toward the point where the troops were drawn up. Gen. Edwards advanced and saluted his commander-in-chief. "How do you do, Gen. Edwards," said Gen. Pershing cordially. "How do you do, Gen. Pershing," replied Gen. Edwards.

And still grasping Gen. Edwards' hand, Gen. Pershing continued toward the troops, drawing the former Y-D commander along with him.

The bugles sang. Col. Bolles galloped his horse up to Gen. Pershing and asked his pleasure. The general expressed a desire to inspect the entire regiment of students, and the order boomed across the parade ground. "Prepare for inspection!"

Accompanied by Gen. Edwards, Hersey and Hickey—the last-named adjutant general of Maine—Gen. Pershing, Col. Bolles, Col. Bigelow, Col. Greenlaw, Maj. Marshall, Major Stillwell and several others, Gen. Pershing began with Co. A and went right through the regiment. He asked many questions of the officers, but none of the boys themselves.

"Where are you from? How old are you? Do you like the training? What are you getting out of this camp, anyway? Why did you come? Shall you come again next year if you are given the opportunity? What have you learned here? Do you get enough to eat? Is the food good? What are you going to tell the boys at home about this camp?"

And so it went. One lad said he is being taught how to stand straight. "Well, by George, you're doing it," smiled General Pershing.

All But One Said They Liked It
Several said they wanted to be prepared to serve the country in case of an emergency, while many more stressed the fact that the physical development part of it appeals to them. All but one vowed they liked it and want to return next year. The one who allowed he doesn't like it could give no reason for his dissatisfaction save that he finds military training and discipline too irksome.

When the last company had been inspected the combined bands of the 13th and 36th Infantry regiments crashed into music and the march band began. They went by in columns of masses, and each company tried to outdo its predecessor in snap and pep and ginger.

After the review the students gave Gen. Pershing a demonstration of their physical drill with the massed companies. They were led by Capt. John C. Macdonald, athletic officer of the 2d Battalion. Then they were massed about the director's stand and Gen. Pershing, Gen. Edwards, Gen. Hersey and Gov. Baxter mounted the platform.

Gen. Pershing said: "You have all seen on the field today the great man who, under the Providence of God, brought the world war to a victorious close. It gives me great pleasure and it is a great honor to introduce to you General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the armies of the United States."

The lads forgot military dignity and burst into loud applause as Gen. Pershing stepped forward. But the general was not ready to speak yet, and he introduced Governor Baxter.

Gen. Pershing's Address

After the governor had spoken, Gen. Pershing said: "Young gentlemen, it is a great pleasure to me to have been able to come here today and to witness your enthusiasm. The responses I got to my questions as I passed among you show that these camps have found favor with the youth of America. We are training about 12,000 of you lads this year. This is the sixth camp I have visited, and all I have seen convinces me that they are an unqualified success. Next year we hope to see the number attending increased from five to tenfold, if Congress will give us the money which it is to do."

"The training you are getting is not essentially military, though it has numerous military features. But we are trying to lay emphasis on discipline, leadership, clean living, physical perfection and strength, and sanitation and the ability to care for yourselves. What you learn here will better enable you to enter upon the duties of citizenship. We are teaching you out of the experience we gained during the war. During the war we found that the young men who received the training you are getting had made only a beginning, and so we hope that you will return next year to take the real course and the following year to take the blue course."

TEST AIRPLANE UNIT TO COMMAND OCEAN

WARWICK, R. I., Aug. 23.—Final tests were made here yesterday under United States Naval supervision of a power unit of three huge Liberty airplane engines geared to one 15-foot propeller, by which, according to those making the tests, it is hoped to establish an airplane cruising radius sufficient to command the ocean.

Lieut. R. Christensen, U.S.N., engineer of the ship during the transatlantic flight of that craft, was in charge of the tests, which were said to have been successful.

The military importance of the development is declared to be of a significance greater even than the commercial, as it is claimed an airplane of three or more units, representing a total of 4000 horsepower, will have a cruising radius exceeding 3000 miles and a carrying capacity of 12 tons of explosives.

It is declared to be the first time that Liberty motors have been geared down to a propeller with a clutch system. Each unit has three Liberty motors, two riding tandem and one trailing. The plan consists of the adaptation of the clutch, which made the automobile practicable, coupled with gears which enable the propeller and engines to operate at a maximum efficiency.

The engines and giant propeller were mounted on a test stand, 25 ft. high, and operation with one, two or three units was demonstrated. The propeller was turned at 800 revolutions per minute and the engines at 1800, which it was said, has long been sought as one of the missing elements necessary to practical commercial flying.

The power unit will be delivered to the United States Navy shortly and within a few days, it was announced.

STOLEN IN LOWELL;

CAR FOUND BURNED

Another case of automobile burning came to light when a Ford sedan stolen Monday night in Lowell was discovered practically destroyed by fire in the woods at Westford. Fred Decatur found the car near the Wright residence on the Littleton road. The machine had been stripped by the thieves, prior to being set afire.

VICE PRESIDENT WOULD
SUB FOR PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The vice president would take over all duties of the president when the latter is away from Washington for more than 48 hours, under a bill introduced yesterday by Representative Kiesel, republican, New York. In event the president and vice-president were out of town, the speaker of the house would assume powers of the president.

The bill would make it unlawful for the president at any time to absent himself from the territorial jurisdiction of the United States.

FELL TO HIS DEATH

Worcester Man Killed in

Climb for Horse Chestnuts

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 23.—Everett M. Paddock of Worcester, Mass., was fatally injured at the home of his father here yesterday when he fell from a ladder to the sidewalk while clearing horse-chestnuts from a tree in the yard. He died shortly after in the Rhode Island hospital.

Mr. Paddock has been annoyed in previous years by boys who stoned the trees to obtain chestnuts, and decided to forestall them by removing the nuts while they were green.

He was for many years employed by the Crompton & Knowles company here and in Worcester.

Cracking is the cause of 29.6 per cent. of automobile accidents.

Wheels of Big Ten Football
Start Turning Sept. 15th

(By Newspaper Enterprise)

URBANA, Ill., Aug. 23.—The Big Ten football wheel has begun to revolve again.

Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, and possibly Wisconsin and Chicago, are the main contenders for the title.

Coach Bob Zuppke has a lot of work ahead of him at Illinois to get a machine clicking, however.

Depler, star center, and the two Fletcher boys, have graduated.

Carney, All-American end, is in the hospital with a game leg. If he isn't in the lineup Zuppke will have to resort to another style of game to the forward pass.

Hellstrom, substitute quarter, last fall, will be out. He was in an accident recently and suffered a broken leg.

Michigan

At Michigan Coach Yost had a bunch of fighters last year. They're more dangerous than ever now. Any team that is coached by "Hurricane" Yost is a title contender.

Wisconsin will be without the services of "Red" Watson, an All-Western end last year, to the veterans Soudt, Davey Elliot, and Harry Williams. They have a heavy aggregation of linemen.

It was Wisconsin that spilled the beans last year and trampled over Illinois.

Ohio State

Ohio state is without the gallant playing of Pete Stuchcomb, graduated, and the great passing of "Hoge" Workman, ineligible.

But Johnny Stuart, great all-around man for quarterback, has come up from freshman ranks, along with Bonny Petcoff, a plunging 212-pound tackle.

Butch Pixley, star guard of 1919, is eligible again this fall.

Schedule

All members of the Big Ten will play five conference games, excepting Minnesota which plays six, Michigan four and Indiana three.

Big Ten teams all start practice Sept. 15.

Northwestern and Chicago open the season Oct. 1.

The schedule will close Nov. 10, when every team in the conference will be engaged.

Super Women of Opposite Types

played in a different way.

She is the opposite of classic. It is far from her Norwegian temperament to pose, to pantomime, to pirouette.

Like Jack Dempsey, she plays always for a knockout.

And in the years 1915, 16, 17, 18 and 19, she won the national women's championship, she never played more superbly than she did at Forest Hills.

Her game is more aggressive than ever before.

BY DEAN SNYDER

Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory and Suzanne Lenglen will play off the rubber match if the French girl's health permits.

The score stands: One for Suzanne (played abroad); one for Molla (won at Forest Hills through a default).

Until the third match is played both will be ranked in the same class as woman-super.

If one is off form she is sure to be beaten by the other.

Stand with a perfect balance on one's feet ready to fly, dart, leap or dance.

And the great Molla! Her game is relentless, stoical, bitter.

Suzanne

Suzanne, the French maid, is Pavlova all over again. She is swift about, all style, the essence of lightness, quickly moved to tears and as quick to dry them and start over again with a heart of courage.

The visiting court star, now a fallen idol, keeps three things in mind when she is playing:

They are:

Always play classically.

Decide where the ball should go and put it there.

Stand with a perfect balance on one's feet ready to fly, dart, leap or dance.

And the great Molla! Her game is

CARP WAVING ON PLAN
TO RETURN TO U. S.

Georges Carpentier is wavering on his plans to return to America's ring. Yet Tex Rickard, who has his contract to fight Tommy Gibbons, believes he will.

After Georges went home prior to his match with Dempsey, the same rumors floated across the Atlantic.

This time he has nothing to prove except that he is the best man of his weight in the world. The purse will still be large but not a fortune.

But Georges' word is his bond. He has given his word.

Pitching

Pitching is about 60 per cent. of a team's strength.

High batting machines are often down in the standings.

Pittsburg, with a batting strength around .250, is leading the National.

Pitching and all-round play has kept them constantly in front.

In the American, Detroit, Cleveland and St. Louis are ahead of the Yankees in batting in spite of the slugging of Ruth, Baker and Meusel.

Yet the Yankees are skating near the top now. They are getting better than average pitching for this kind of a season.

Dusters

There is a penalty in football for unsportsmanlike play.

Rough playing on the gridiron results in penalizing the offenders by so many yards.

In basketball fouls are called on unsportsmanlike plays.

Why not apply it to baseball?

The intentional throwing of a ball at a batter's head to drive him back from the plate, for instance.

If pitchers knew they would be penalized for dusting 'em off, they would exercise more care.

Surprise

W. J. Hunter, British amateur golf champ, is hiding himself either for the American amateur tournament to be held at St. Louis in September.

This Briton is the surprise of the 1921 golf season.

He was an obscure office clerk until this spring when he played his way through one of the toughest amateur tournaments England ever had.

Critics say he is one of the most consistent players of the game now.

You know, Bobby Jones, Chick Evans and Francis Ouimet were in the tournament which Hunter topped.

"BONESETTER" REESE SEVEN NATIONAL TITLE COMPETITIONS

George Tecumseh Stallings did not last long as the Miracle Man of baseball. Neither did Pat Moran. Fans regarded them as ordinary managers when their teams hit the rocks.

"Bonesetter" Reese of Youngstown, O., is the real Miracle Man of baseball. He'll keep his title as long as he lives.

Reese has an honest-to-goodness rival in Denny Carroll, who trains San Francisco's Seals.

"He may not be better than Reese," veteran players say, "but he's just as good."

Carroll has performed miracles on arms supposed to be ready for the graveyard.

Frank O'Doul, classy southpaw, joined San Francisco this season with a lame arm. New York critics predicted he was through.

Carroll took charge of him in spring training. Now O'Doul looks like the best pitcher in the league.

Harry Krause

Harry Krause, veteran southpaw, who won 10 straight games for Connie Mack in 1910, couldn't put on his collar when the 1920 season closed. Carroll worked on him last winter.

Krause is having one of the best seasons of his career.

Scout Bob Conners says Ernie Shore pitched for Frisco a few days ago. He couldn't believe his eyes. Shore had something on every ball he threw, after having been a Yankee lemon. They gave $25,000 for him. Shore gives Carroll credit for bringing him back.

Carroll performs other miracles. He cures sprained ankles in three or four days.

"Why doesn't he get a job in the majors?" ask the players.

He doesn't think about himself. He is the answer. Eventually he'll go up. He is too good in his line to be kept down. He'd be worth a big salary to any major club. Some arms are absent from any team he trains.

His Method

Carroll has a method all his own. He mixes osteopathy with chiropractic and polishes them off with common sense treatments. All he asks is obedience. He has the players' confidence before they visit him.

Strangely, Carroll never played himself. He cannot throw a ball 50 feet. As a young man he was a champion swimmer and a clever boxer.

He's been training San Francisco's Seals for 12 years.

A real dry storage battery has appeared in San Francisco.

MISSING SISTERS HOME

Disappeared From Green Lake, Me., Three Weeks Ago—Two Men Arrested

ELLSWORTH, Me., Aug. 23.—Allida Bennock, 15, and her sister, Annie, 13, daughters of Charles P. Bennock, of Green Lake, are back in their home and the two men charged with kidnapping them, J. Fred Noyes, 45, and Ralph Hamilton, 23, also of Green Lake, are locked up in the Ellsworth jail in default of bail, having been held for the supreme court in Ellsworth.

The couples disappeared from Green Lake about three weeks ago in the touring car owned by Noyes and for some time no trace of them was found, although officers all over the state were looking for them. Warrants for kidnapping, being out for Noyes and Hamilton, were issued.

It appears that they made quick time to and across the Canada line, and last week were heard from at Lower Woodstock, N. B., where they roomed from Aug. 2 to Aug. 10, then left the car, which was found there. They were arrested a few days ago. Mr. Bennock received word from Grand Falls, N. LAWRENCE AND LOWELL
KNIGHTS MAY PLAY

The challenge of the Lowell Knights of Columbus baseball team to play the Lawrence Knights for 1920 has caused considerable discussion around town, and it is expected that the defy will be accepted, as the athletes from the neighboring city, have always been ready to engage in combat with local performers.

Many, however, who have seen the Lawrence Knights play, aver that their present lineup would prove so formidable for the locals, but in the event of the series being arranged, it is said the Lawrence Knights will be permitted to strengthen their weak positions.

Meanwhile the local Knights are training their squad on the James E. Hayes council, for next Saturday at Spalding park. The Hayes council came here early this season and lost to the locals in a thrilling game by the score of 1 to 6. Ever since that game the defeated team has been anxious for a re-engagement in order to wipe out the record. Harry Hart, the local box for the Hayes council, while the classy Jimmy Davidson will be on the mound for the locals.

Manager Coughlin of the Knights is elated over the great victory scored by his team over the Pere Marquette team. While he expected the victors would put up a much better game in view of their former victory over the local Knights, he feels that his present lineup was too much for the formidable Boston outfit. McCort, who had been creating a sensation in and around Boston, proved ineffective against the Lowell wreckers. The Knights now feel that they can defeat any independent team in the state. They are ready to meet all comers.

A fan suggests that he would like to see an All-Star Twilight league play a series of games with the local Knights. Of course, several of the star players in the league are members of Manager Coughlin's outfit, but there are certainly enough others to assemble a very strong lineup. The Knights have four of the centerfield players, one from the South End and one from the Highland Park, but there still remain about 50 other classy players from whom a wonderful team could be selected. It would seem that this plan ought to prove worthy of consideration.

Tonight on the South common the Lowell lodge of Elks and Bohand and Canney's South Ends will meet in a game scheduled for 8 o'clock. The Elks have assembled a fine team, and a good game is expected.

BROADWAYS TO PLAY
THURSDAY NIGHT

Manager Bob Ganley, of the Broadway ball club announced today that he had secured the Nashua Independents, runners-up in the Nashua league, to play a Twilight game on the South common Thursday night, to start at 6:15 o'clock.

The Nashua team is said to be one of the best in the South common. It has a number of star players in its lineup. It is putting up a great battle in the Twilight league there and the players are confident of landing on top.

Manager Ganley will have practically the same lineup he put on the field against the C.M.A.G. Saturday. The only change will be Frankie McPherson in the infield.

The Broadway players are requested to report on the common at 5:15 o'clock.

JOHN TOBIN

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 23.—Waiting 'em out! John Tobin is killing that role for the St. Louis Browns.

And his five feet eight inches of stature and 160 pounds make him one of the hardest men to pluck in the American league.

The midge outfielder is batting around .315 in addition to his job of working pitchers for passed balls.

"I figure my job of waiting them out handicaps me just about 20 points in batting," says Tobin.

"Number one man on the betting order must sacrifice his batting average. 'Any way to get on is the idea I always have in mind."

"I'm not kicking on my job. I score a lot of runs. That's what wins games. Tobin at 27 is having his best year.

Peter Cooper Hewitt in Paris Hospital

RARE COINS EXHIBITED

One Coined 700 B. C. at Aegina Among Those Displayed at Boston Exhibition

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—Obsolete and rare coins dated hundreds of years before Christ were included in the exhibition of the American Numismatic society which opened its annual convention here today. Members from 33 states and a dozen European and South American countries contributed to the display of odd coins, and currency.

Colonial coins were shown in great numbers, as were Baltimore groats, named after the English great of the black prince's time, shillings, six-penny pieces and New York state pieces, all somewhat tarnished but worth many times their original value.

The queerest coins in the exhibition were those from Siam. They are irregular lumps of silver, ranging from a pea to a walnut in size according to the value represented. What was said to be the oldest coin in the United States and the smallest value ever issued was shown by a southern collector. It is known as the "Mite," and its face value is one-fifth of an American cent. It is hexagonal in shape and was coined 700 B. C. at Aegina. The design in high relief represents a tortoise crawling across the face of the piece.

Rare American coins included one of the 1801 dollars, of which it is said but seven are in existence. The dollar, coined for the purpose of paying off sailors and marines engaged in fighting pirates off the Barbary coast, was never heard from. Fifteen-cent pieces, which have never been put in circulation, were also found on display. They bore the heads of Grant and Sherman and their circulation was prohibited because of a law passed at the time forbidding the vignette of any living man to be used on money. Many examples of private paper currency were shown, among which were 25c notes issued by local firms about 1860.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE

Results in Great Britain and Dominions Standing as One Great Commonwealth

LONDON, Aug. 23.—Great Britain and her dominions stand before the world as one great commonwealth as a result of the deliberations of the imperial conference, declared Premier Hughes of Australia, speaking at a dinner given by the British Empire league last night. In his address Mr. Hughes advocated a protective tariff so that high wages might be maintained in the British dominions.

"We depend upon each other," he declared, "not only for safety and security, but for daily bread. The dominions and the people of these islands are bound by many ties, but by none more real and safe than those of buyers and customers. The dominions are the best customers England has, and Great Britain is the best buyer in the world of the products of the dominions."

Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for the colonies, presided at the dinner.

OPENS FIVE PARACHUTES
IN LEAP FROM PLANE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 23.—A gun-turret parachute jump—five chutes released one after the other in a 5000-foot fall—was accomplished for what was said to be the first time, by W. N. Bottomfield of Nelson, Neb. Several thousand persons witnessed the feat. Bottomfield, an ex-army aviator, was taken up by Capt. Ray Miller. He had five chutes of varying sizes fitted into head and attached to his harness. After he had leaped from the plane and dropped 250 feet his first parachute opened. This he cut loose with a knife and dropped rapidly until the second chute opened, which also was cut. This was repeated with the other parachutes.

EX-BOSTON POLICEMAN HELD FOR ROBBERY

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Patrick J. Kane, who said he was a Boston policeman until discharged with other strikers and who had an old Boston police shield, was arrested today charged with robbery. Cornelius J. Callahan, a Jersey City junk dealer, was beaten and robbed of his watch and $32 soon after leaving a Saratoga train in Harlem. Kane was caught after a chase and a threat to shoot by a policeman. Callahan recovered what had been taken from him.

CARMEN FAVOR
THE PLUMB PLAN

TORONTO, Aug. 23.—Resolutions voiding the relations of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America to stand by any action of the railway employment department of the American Federation of Labor may take in dealing with the United States labor board's recent ruling on overtime pay, were adopted by the carmen at the closing session of their convention here late yesterday.

The convention also adopted the minority report of the committee on industrial democracy of the federation. This action was construed as tantamount to an endorsement of the Plumb plan for the management of railways in the United States.

The temperature on the island of Majorca, near Spain, is said to run at about 75 degrees the year round.

GRANDMA PANTALETTES — ABBREVIATED

BY MARIAN HALE
NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—Of course, the kiddies can't wear ankle-length pantalettes like their great-grandmothers did.

Nevertheless, they just can't help keeping up with that back-to-the-fore-mother fashion tendency.

Never has the pantalette been developed in such dainty and ornate fashions as these the little folks of today are wearing. While the far-sighted decree for their elders has been "skirts longer," the edict for the small "skirts shorter," go show the pants.

A real "confection" is the Pidgey panty frock of pink crepe in soft tiers of ruffles. The pants, too, are be-ruffled and bedowered. And the children love to show them beneath the short frocks which reach far above the knee.

Another Pidgey panty frock for a tiny girl is so be-ruffled it looks like a yellow rose.

The French school girl isn't the only one to wear black aprons.

The Sassy Jana apron of black silk with gay designs of contrasting colors is one of the little girls' most popular dresses. With these are worn the full, tight-banded pants like bloomers.

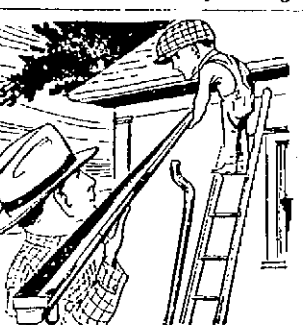

MATRIMONIAL

GERMANS TO SIGN PEACE TREATY

Final Instructions Relative to Pact Between U. S. and Germany Received in Berlin

Expected Document Will be Signed by German Government Within Few Days

BERLIN, Aug. 23.—Final instructions relative to the treaty of peace between the United States and Germany have been received from Secretary of State Hughes by Loring Dressel, United States commissioner here, and the treaty now awaits signature by the German government. It is expected that the document will be signed in the next few days at a special meeting of the cabinet which will be attended by President Ebert. The document will bear the president's signature and will be countersigned either by Dr. Joseph Wirth, the chancellor, or Dr. Friedrich Rosen, the foreign minister.

For the first time since the peace negotiations have been in progress, the newspapers of Berlin are giving the subject extended consideration apparently much to the embarrassment of the government, which hitherto has succeeded in keeping all discussion out of the public prints. Editorial comments have been wholly non-committal, but they have concurred in expressing satisfaction over the prospect of early resumption of friendly relations with the last of the nations which were either active belligerents, or with which diplomatic intercourse was interrupted.

The Freihand, Independent socialist organ, welcomes the impending peace in the interest of the working classes and expresses belief that the Reichstag will not oppose ratification of the treaty. The Tagblatt declares it has learned that the treaty would provide ample reservations respecting the safeguarding of German private property in the United States, the Washington government merely claiming the right of "retention" until claims against Germany have been satisfied. Confidence is expressed by the newspaper that these claims will be met by the German government without the necessity of transferring the private property of German subjects into cash.

THOMPSON AND DONNELLY HOLD DOWN LID

Three-fifths of the municipal council are now away from Lowell and it would be impossible to call a meeting of the body in an emergency without sending S.O.s. calls beyond the municipal boundary lines. Commissioner John P. Salmon has taken advantage of his first opportunity since his release from St. John's hospital to take a vacation. He is staying at Oak Bluffs with friends. Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy is still at Oak Orchard and Commissioner George E. Marchand has also taken himself to some restful spot. Mayor Thompson and Commissioner James E. Donnelly are at present representing the council at city hall.

HELD IN HOSPITAL FOR OBSERVATION

Walter Baker, aged 5 years, and residing at 115 Salem street, is at the Lowell Corporate hospital where he is being kept under observation for possible internal injuries. The boy was struck by an automobile in Merrimack street late yesterday afternoon while he attempted to cross the street, and although he has no external injuries, it is feared he may have been injured internally. The automobile was being operated, it is stated, by Mrs. Louis A. Tizomb, of 455 Wilder street.

Great loss of life from malaria and yellow fever is blamed for the failure of the French to finish the Panama canal.

WAR VETERANS RUSH TO ENLIST

Continue Their Procession to Spanish Consulate at New York for Enrollment

Join Spanish Foreign Legion Despite Reports That U. S. Government May Act

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Jobless veterans of the world war and other young Americans fled with the lust for adventure continued their procession to the Spanish consulate here today for enrollment in the Spanish foreign legion, despite reports from Washington that the government might intervene to prevent enlistment of American citizens.

Recruiting for the legion, which is designated for service in Morocco, was carried on yesterday at high speed, with the promise that a consignment of recruits would be started on the way to Spain today. It could not be learned definitely this morning whether the detachment would start according to plan.

No Other Way to Get Food, Etc. At the consulate it was said that nearly half the applicants for enlistment were Americans, the majority with service records. Many Spaniards and South Americans also applied. A number of the veteran applicants were rejected because of physical disability incurred overseas. Most of them said they were broke and were seeking to sign up because they knew of no other way to get food, clothes and a place to sleep.

Pay offered for legionnaires is 44 pesetas a day, or less than 60 cents at the present rate of exchange. A bonus of 400 pesetas for four years' enlistment and 700 pesetas for five years is offered.

Consular attaches were of the opinion that the American government would not check their recruiting activities inasmuch as applicants would not actually be inducted into the Spanish army until they arrived overseas. A federal law prohibits recruiting in America by a foreign government of forces to be used against another government with which the United States is on friendly terms.

MAYOR WANTS MEN WITH SPOTLESS RECORDS

Only young, active members of the police department will be eligible for membership in the proposed enlarged liquor squad which Mayor Thompson is now forming. His Honor said today in discussing the qualifications of the men who are representing the local department in an intensive drive against violation of the liquor laws here. The mayor has been besieged with applicants for positions on the squad and he is giving the matter very careful consideration. No member of the department who has not had a spotless record will be considered, the mayor says. He intends to have the new squad composed of men who have the energy to ferret out violators and the present members of the squad, who are to be retained in the enlarged squad, have done excellent work but the mayor feels that with a larger force, more efficiency will result.

The transfer of the men from regular patrol work will necessitate, of course, a rearrangement of work for the members of the department. As a result, His Honor has been kept busy receiving applications from various members of the force asking for transfers to certain beats.

The situation has brought a trail of problems and complexities, but His Honor hopes to have them all ironed out within a day or two and will then announce the personnel of the new squad.

Prohibition Booze

door-step, according to the arresting officer, said that he got his booze mostly in Centralville. He didn't recall getting over the bridge, or consuming the contents of any further gourd after reaching the city proper. A man acted as cup-bearer to him on the old Centralville baseball grounds, he said. He paid for the drinks as they were borne to him.

Wm. Weston, found helplessly drunk at the depot, according to Officer C. F. Sullivan, said: "I had three drinks, and that's all I remember." He was "at a friend's house," he declared, and gave said friend a $1 bill to go forth and procure liquor. Three drinks, and all that followed was oblivion, as far as he was concerned, he said.

Resposing On Common

Thomas Griffin and Andrew Kelly were found resposing on the South common, both "helplessly drunk." In the words of the arresting officer, the latter testified that they gave a fellow some money to get them some liquor and that the corporation sent them to sleep after about four drinks.

All Frank Keohane could recall was that some one gave him some liquor, he said. Officer O'Keefe told of finding him deep in slumber in an alley. Unable to arouse him, the officer called the wagon.

Chief Velteler, according to Officer J. E. Lynch, was discovered lying in a gutter across the road near the Draught line.

All the foregoing were first offenders and were apparently viewed by the court more as victims than as wrongdoers. They were released with a few words of warning against the multiple kick of Lowell home made moon.

Not So Fortunate

John Murphy was less fortunate. In for the third time within a year, according to the records of the probation officer, he was fined $10. He came, he said, from West Andover, to purchase some clothes; but he purchased "wine" instead, the officer stated.

Costas Carocher pleaded not guilty when charged with drunkenness, and his case was put over to Aug. 29 to secure the presence of government witnesses. Bonds of $100 were fixed. Joseph Jurowski, charged with drunkenness, was defaulted when he failed to answer the calling of his name.

BRIDGE BUILDERS ARE TO PROTECT RIGHTS

The Engineering Service and Construction Co. of Boston which is engaged in rebuilding Central bridge is taking every legal means to protect its rights relative to the payment of its bills by the city. In a communication received this morning by Mayor Thompson, Thomas H. Mahony, the legal representative of the company, says that his client reserves all rights against the city of Lowell to any and all amounts due the company by reason of extra work done on the bridge, particularly items charged in the invoices of July 1 and Aug. 1 upon insurance and bond premiums. The mayor has referred the letter to the city solicitor.

MILL TOILERS SCARED DAY BRINGS A WAVE OF BY RUNAWAY SUDDEN DEATHS

A horse was seriously injured, a wagon was demolished and several persons had a narrow escape from being run over this noon when a horse owned by Gaspard Bourgeault, the Tucker street grocer, ran away in Cabot street. The runaway occurred while the mill people were on their way home for dinner and several women were badly frightened when they saw the animal dashing through the street, but fortunately no one was injured.

The horse, which was in the care of a young man employed by Mr. Bourgeault, became frightened in Cabot street near the corner of Ford street, when the driver attempted to climb on the wagon. The animal bolted through the street, across the bridge, and when he rounded the corner of Cheever street he made a sharp turn and upset the wagon, demolishing it. He was free, the animal ran over the sidewalk through a crowd of men and women, but managed to return to the road without striking anyone. He continued his race through Cheever street as far as Cook's drug store, where he was brought to a stop by a couple of men, Patrolman Lemay, who was attracted to the scene, found that the animal was suffering from a serious cut on the leg and after ordering it driven to a nearby stable, sent in an emergency call for a veterinarian.

The other delegates are expected to leave Sept. 10. It is said that Mr. Reagan, who is an organizer for the organization, will be a candidate for second vice president and he is believed to have the support of the delegates from this city and Manchester, N. H.

May Have Double Election

"shall be on the official ballot." It doesn't say that no other question shall, so on the ballot.

The solicitor conferred with Mayor Thompson on the matter this noon. The mayor had planned to call a special meeting of the council next Thursday but inasmuch as the city may be saved $5,000 or $6,000 by a little delay in calling the meeting, it is probable that there will be no further meetings until September.

However, His Honor was not ready to state definitely this noon just what action he would take in the matter. He said he wanted to save the election commission money and still be wanted to be sure that he was violating no law. He will announce his decision after giving the matter a little study.

Want 20 Days

Although the council may formally receive the petition from the city clerk on Sept. 1, it will not be able to set the date of the special election at that time. It will have to wait until 20 days after the date on which the city clerk attached his certificate of sufficiency to the petition have passed before it can act. The certificate was attached last Friday, Aug. 19. The 20 days will be up Thursday, Sept. 8. The charter says the municipal council shall "forthwith" after the expiration of 20 days, call a special election. That means that the earliest opportunity the council will have to set the date of election will be Friday, Sept. 9. But the election date will be governed reactively by the day on which the petition was presented to the council by the city clerk, which in all probability will be Sept. 1.

The city clerk is not bound to present the petition the minute he receives it, although the charter says he shall do so "without delay" after he has attached his certificate of sufficiency to the petition. But the "without delay" can be interpreted as meaning only that he must do so at the next meeting of the municipal council. The clerk of his own volition cannot call a meeting of the council. He has already notified Mayor Thompson of the attachment of the certificate of sufficiency to the petition. It is now up to the council to decide when it will meet to consider the same.
